Dear Dr Hilsenrath

I write with further reference to our recent telephone conversation and your fax of 11 May 1996. I am grateful for the information provided concerning your personal background.

As promised, I now have pleasure in providing you with some details regarding this company and the nature of our services.

As you will see from the enclosed brochure, this company is part of the Jardine Matheson Group of Trust Companies, which are geared to combine asset management in its broadest terms with asset protection arrangements through the use of trust and corporate structures established and administered from a stable, low tax jurisdiction. Our group consists of six principal operating companies, located in Jersey Channel Islands, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands, Hong Kong, Labuan, Malaysia and Mauritius through which we are able to provide effective arrangements for the protection and management of a world-wide asset base, having regard to the varying demands and concerns of our international clientele. These operating companies are owned by Jardine Matheson Trust Corporation, a British Virgin Island holding company, which in turn, is a direct subsidiary of the Bermuda parent of the Jardine Matheson Group.

We believe that this ownership structure itself is of significant appeal and importance to our clients, given that it avoids any ultimate connection with the main jurisdictions such as, for example, the United States of America or the United Kingdom. We further believe that our international trading background affords a depth of commercial experience, understanding and support to our trust and financial services.

Our parent company, Jardine Matheson Holdings, is, as I am sure you appreciate, an international service-related company incorporated in Bermuda, and headquartered in Hong Kong. Founded in 1832, the group has extensive business interests world-wide, falling into five main areas of financial services, marketing and distribution, engineering and construction, property and hotels and transport services.

The facilities of the Trust Group are particularly directed towards those individuals, family groups and indeed private companies who hold investments and assets away from the home base. We often find that although there may well be a focus on the merits of investment diversification, less attention is given to the establishment of an effective and efficient holding structure that will provide long term protection.

Dr Oliver Hilsenrath

14 May 1996

Some of the aspects of trusts that are important in this respect are addressed in the accompanying paper which outlines the principal features of trusts and which may be of interest to you.

As you will see from our brochure, our services extend to the incorporation and management of companies established in a wide range of jurisdictions. Our facilities are provided for both investment holding and trading companies and in addition to the maintenance of the necessary statutory records will extend to the full management of the underlying affairs of the company.

Also enclosed is a Questionnaire and a Fee Schedule in connection with the incorporation and ongoing administration of a British Virgin Islands registered company. As I explained over the telephone, if we are required to provide full services, this will include the provision of three Directors, all of whom are directors of Matheson Trust Company (Jersey) Limited, the Company Secretary, Nominee Shareholders, the Registered Office in the BVI and Administrative Office here in Jersey. We will establish bank accounts in the name of the BVI company in whatever currencies are required, the authorised signatories of which will again be officers of Matheson Trust Company. It is not our policy to allow third parties to be signatories over bank accounts; neither do we entertain 'mixed' Boards of Directors. There are several reasons for adopting this policy but primarily, we take our responsibilities as directors of the company seriously and all major decisions regarding the company's activities, including the administration of its financial affairs must be clearly seen to rest with the Board.

In the circumstances you may well ask what recourse you would have if for any reason you were unhappy with our administration of the company's affairs at some future date. I would simply say that, as the actual beneficial owner of the company you have the necessary power to appoint alternative directors in place of our officers and instruct us to transfer the administration to another organisation. A copy of our standard Company Management Agreement is enclosed which I think you will agree clearly sets out both our responsibilities as the administrators of the company and what is required of you as the client.

I believe I also mentioned that the setting up costs and ongoing administration fees for either a Jersey registered or BVI registered company were broadly similar although there are no disclosure requirements in the BVI, whereas if we incorporate a Jersey company the name of the beneficial owner must be given to the local Financial Services Department. Nevertheless, this is not a matter of public record and at the end of the day the choice of jurisdiction is largely down to the client's preference. If you have no particular concerns, I would like to suggest that a BVI company would be most appropriate in your particular circumstances.

Turning now to the question of ownership, I note that your children are all minors. Therefore I suggest that you and your wife be named jointly so that, in the event of the demise of one or other of you, the survivor will automatically become the sole owner of the issued share capital of the company and therefore its underlying assets. Once the children come of age, we can review the position. Alternatively, depending on the sums involved, you may wish to contemplate creating a trust into which the company shares could be settled. Please refer to the enclosed paper entitled 'Features of a Trust'.

Finally, if the proposed company was to be used for the purpose of investing funds and holding securities, it would be perfectly in order for the directors of the BVI company to appoint an Investment Manager such as the gentleman in New York referred to in your fax. Obviously we would report to you on a regular basis in accordance with guidelines which we would need to establish with you.

I hope that I have addressed the main issues which may be of interest and concern to you at this early stage, although I am sure you will have further questions once you have had an opportunity to consider this letter and the enclosures. I therefore look forward to hearing from you again in due course.

Yours sincerely,
